

SHOULD PITY RICH

Dr. Hirsch Says Rich Men's Sons Are Failures.

SUCCESSFUL ONE IS RARE

Noted Speaker Asserts That Majority of Millionaire's Sons Are Failures and Should, Without Exception, Be Pitied.

CHICAGO, Feb. 20.—Along with the other social settlements in Chicago, let us open a settlement on the South Side for the benefit of the millionaires' sons. Most of these rich young men are failures. The successful one, as we count success, is the exception. It seems to me that the rich are to be pitied."

Thus spoke Dr. Emil G. Hirsch, of Sinai temple in an address last night at the dedicatory exercises of the New Maxwell street Jewish settlement, at Twelfth and Clinton streets. Dr. Hirsch asserted that the charitable acts of rich men were efforts in many cases to compel the administration of their friends. He emphasized the necessity of true philanthropy in settlement work and not mere charity on the part of the rich who seek to secure praise for their own selfish enjoyment.

"It is a privilege for the rich to have the chance to contribute to an institution of this kind," said Dr. Hirsch. "and when the founders of it allowed men to turn over to it dead money to become a power for good they were doing those rich men a favor. Charity as the word is known today, is only a bribe on moneyed men to make a community forget the wrongs heaped upon it. Charitable people give money so that they may appear in the guise of a benefactor."

In place of the word charity let us substitute the word philanthropy. This is the better word. It means the love of mankind, not simply charity for mankind. It is this spirit that has moved the founders of all settlements. As a matter of fact, the people of the Ghetto here are often superior to the residents of the avenues and boulevards."

READING CLUB ENTERTAINS.

The Reading Club entertained about fifty guests last evening at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Stokes. Mrs. Grace Watt Ross of Portland gave a delightfully informal talk upon the Elizabethan lyric, including those of Shakespeare. Miss Agnes Watt furnished valuable assistance to the program by singing a number of the lyrics. Miss Maud Ross played the piano accompaniments. Light refreshments were served and those favored with invitations voted it a most delightful affair.

Are You Restless at Night.

McCLURE ASTORIA.

The Slow Coach Section of the Town. Last night the third meeting of the McClure Improvement Club was held at the court house and as at the two previous meetings a bar corporal's guard was present.

"No wonder Shiveley's Astoria has good streets, cement sidewalks, a lot of fine new residences, a new city hall, a splendid new hospital, the residents of that part are alive and kicking, said a member of the McClure Club last night. "Look at Upper Astoria and especially Union Town, scores of new houses and many other improvements. The people of the West End like Shiveley's, turn out to the meeting of their improvement club, propose new ideas and every one of them undertakes the task assigned ungrudgingly and with vim; but poor McClure's, look at it, decayed streets, wobbly sidewalks, tumbledown shacks, and China town, what is the cause? Lack of public spirit that's all, if there was any spirit, there would be alertness and consequently improvement and growth, unless the residents of this section of the town awake from their ethargy and that at once, it won't be two years before even the few remaining business blocks will be used for second hand business, a fit monument to the slumbering denizens of a once splendid locality."

"If they don't wake up soon, they will open their eyes to see the principal business portion east of Twelfth street, just as Shiveley's has become, the favorite residence section."

A final call is made to the people living in McClure's Astoria to meet at the court house next Tuesday evening at 7:45 o'clock.

This means YOU, every mothers son. Don't leave to your neighbor the duty that is yours; if your property decreases in value the loss will be your own.

If the property owners are beyond appeal then let the more progressive, if poorer people living in McClure's Astoria come out, next Tuesday night.

The vigorous Shively Improvement Club will hold another session at the council chambers tonight, those who have not yet signed the roll are hereby invited to be present and join the gang; only one dollar per year, and no goat to ride; if you have a hobby and don't know what to do with it, bring it around to the lively Shivelyites who will fix it for you.

Croup.

Begins with the symptoms of a common cold; there is chilliness, sneezing, sore throat, hot skin, quick pulse, hoarseness and impeded respiration. Give frequent small doses of Ballard's Horehound Syrup, (the child will cry for it) and at the first sign of a croupy cough apply frequently Ballard's Snow Liniment to the throat.

Mrs. A. Vliet, New Castle, Colo., writes, March 19, 1902: I think Ballard's Horehound Syrup a wonderful remedy, and so pleasant to take. Sold by Hart's Drug Store.

Lame Back.

This ailment is usually caused by rheumatism of the muscles and may be cured by applying Chamberlain's Pain Balm two or three times a day and rubbing the parts vigorously at each application. If this does not afford relief, bind on a piece of flannel slightly dampened with Pain Balm, and quick relief is almost sure to follow. For sale by Frank Hart and leading druggists.

PATRIOTIC SUICIDE

Corean Thus Shows His Protest to Japan's Occupancy.

SWALLOWS DOSE OF OPIUM

Noted Corean Tries to Suicide and is Prevented by Authorities—He is Allowed To Go, And At Once Takes Poison.

VICTORIA, B. C., Feb. 19.—Another patriotic suicide in protest to Japanese occupancy in Corea, Mr. Chong, reputed the most prominent of Confucian Literati in Corea, announced that he would suicide in protest to the convention with Japan, but the Japanese police prevented him from doing so and returned him under guard to his native place. His wife refused to admit him, stating he would be eternally disgraced if he tamely abandoned his determination. He then went to a temple and swallowed opium, leaving a farewell document addressed to the Corean people and another to his fellow literati, declaring that death was the only recourse at this juncture for a true Corean patriot.

Fire at Tokio destroyed 443 houses in Asakusa district on January 31. Several people were burned to death.

Telegrams from Vladivostok to Japanese papers report the destruction of a train loaded with soldiers, which was blown up and precipitated into a river. The loss of life is given as 3000, but this is considered exaggerated. On January 25th another collision occurred between Cossacks and prisoners from Japan, the latter unarmed, and 1500 were reported killed or wounded, about one-third of the wounded were taken to hospitals, the others being left lying on the snow.

IN CIRCUIT COURT.

Little Doing in the Higher Court Yesterday—It Was Motion Day.

Hon. T. A. McBride opened the second day of the pending term of the circuit court yesterday morning at 9:30 o'clock, the officers of the court and such members of the bar being present as had business due for consideration yesterday.

It was motion day and there was but little doing beyond the hearing and deciding of motions and demurrers.

In the matter of W. T. Schofield versus M. E. and Sidney Dell, default was duly entered.

In the matter of Christiansen versus

Kaboth, demurrer was argued and taken under advisement.

In the matter of Mary Reid versus the City of Astoria, defendant's motion to have plaintiff's complaint made more definite, was argued at the afternoon session. Adjournment was then taken.

JOHN SEGALOS: HERO!

The Railway and Marine News has the following editorial regarding the latest stunt of John Segalos, "Hero of the Valencia," who has entered the ranks of vaudeville performers:

"Webster gives this definition of a hero: 'A person of distinguished or extraordinary valor or enterprise; a kind of demi-god, offspring of a divine and a human being. The heroes were mortal, but after death were admitted among the gods.'"

Does John Segalos, Greek fireman, come under this interpretation? Hardly. If he were a real hero he would act like one, notwithstanding the fact that nature did not endow him with the brains of his illustrious race. In agreeing to swim ashore from the Valencia he thought only of saving his own life, and it was not until someone aboard the doomed ship suggested that he take a line in his attempt to reach shore that his dull brain evolved the thought that he would be pulled back should the attempt fail. He jumped overboard and struck boldly out. He is a strong swimmer, the greater portion of his life having been passed, and it is there he has risen by degrees until he has attained the proud position of fireman and hero. He was a pigmy in the arms of those mighty waves, and when he realized he could not make shore, he remembered the line that would draw him back to the ship a live hero, and give him another opportunity to escape, which he did later on the raft, and was picked up by the Topeka.

Compare Segalos to hero Olsen, who made shore with a line and then lost his life in attempting to swim a gorge which would have enabled him to save the lives of all on board. Here was a hero. Had Segalos reached shore the chances are he would have lost no time in reaching a habitation, and food. Ask him and he will tell you that a live hero is worth a dozen dead ones. Dead heroes can not sport medals, silk underwear, drink to their capacity Dago red and bow to audiences in 10-cent theaters. The spectacle of this fellow Segalos bowing to gaping crowds of supposedly intelligent people, with a laurel wreath on his "classic" brow, is sickening, and all the while the bones of the real heroes are bleaching on the rocky ribbed shore of Vancouver Island."

Little Gladys Ditmar, the three-year-old daughter of the keeper of the reptile department of the Bronx Zoo in New York, strange to say, much prefers a four-foot black snake which she calls "Indigo" for a pet instead of a doll which she keeps at home. She has many a frolic and romp with this peculiar playmate, and seems to have no regard for his snakeship, for she pulls him from his hay that he sleeps in, at any old time, and compels him to play with her when she is lonesome. She is fearless in the zoo, not hesitating to attack the largest of the reptiles, dragging them around by the tail.

Common Colds are the Cause of Many Serious Diseases.

Physicians who have gained a national reputation as analysts of the cause of various diseases, claim that if catching cold could be avoided a long list of dangerous ailments would never be heard of. Every one knows that pneumonia and consumption originate from a cold, and chronic catarrh, bronchitis, and all throat and lung trouble are aggravated and rendered more serious by each fresh attack. Do not risk your life or take chances when you have a cold. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy will cure it before these diseases develop. This remedy contains no opium, morphine or other harmful drug and has thirty years of reputation back of it, gained by its cures under every condition. For sale by David Ingram.
